FROSH GRID TEAM SHOWS POWER IN 15-0 WIN OVER V. A.

Backs Drive Through Line Twice To Tally Touchdowns

HENRY GETS AWAY FOR 55-YARD DASH

Reigelman's Yearlings Have Hard Fight To Down Prep School

Showing their best form of the season, the Black Panther Cubs scored their second victory in three games when they trampled on the strong Vermont Academy team at Saxtons River Saturday to win by a score of 15 to 0. The game played by the freshmen was clearly superior to that of their opponents and was greatly improved over that of the week before at Dartmouth.

There was no individual starring on the Freshman team, but without doubt the Vermont Academy team was built around Lawlor, their potential fullback. The Vermont Academy men at no time threatened the Blue's goal and with three exceptions all the playing was done in the Academy's territory.

The game started with a beautiful kickoff by Willis to the V. A. fullback, who ran the ball back to the 30 yard line. After several plays, the Saxtons River team fumbled and the ball was recovered by Allen of Middlebury. Vermont in her eagerness was penalized twice for offside. Willis then took the ball for a long gain around right end. Several line plunges were successful but the Cubs fumbled the ball and it was recovered by an Academy player. The V. A. team elected to punt and McLaughlin recovered the pigskin.

The second quarter began with a long run by Ransom, followed by an unsuccessful pass. Hellauer went in as quarterback. The next play was a long end run to the opponents' five-yard line. Henry followed this by a drive through center for a touchdown.

Webber kicked off to V. A.'s left halfback, who met with little success in trying to run the ball back. The Vermont Academy team fumbled and although it seemed apparent that the ball was in Middlebury's possession the referee gave the ball back to the Orange and Black's team. Several futile attempts to penetrate the Blue line failed and Vermont was forced to punt.

Smith was substituted for Stevens and in the next play a beautiful pass was completed from Willis to Smith, giving the Blue team the ball on the 18 yard line.

A kick to Ransom started the second half. The first play was an end run. Willis passed to Henry, then to Hawkins. A 15 yard penalty was quickly made up by another long pass. V. A. held the team for downs and after a try through the line attempted a punt which was blocked, giving Middlebury the ball on the opponents' eight yard line. The prep school team stiffened to hold the Freshmen for downs. With the ball again in their possession, the Vermont Academy team tried to make up for the loss but fumbled the ball and it rolled back across the goal line. Hardy, of V. A. fell on the ball making a safety and giving Middlebury two more points. Instead of taking the ball out to the 30 yard line as is usually done, the referee insisted that Middlebury should kick off. Willis kicked off and the Panther Cubs held their opponents for downs.

Big Football Rally Tonight

A peppy football rally will be held in the gymnasium tonight as a send-off to Captain Potter's team which is is to leave Thursday noon for New York City for the N. Y. U. game. Knowles '26, who is in charge, has secured as speakers of the evening "Bill" McLaughlin, "Al" Brosowsky and "Joe" Novotny, three veterans of the Black Panther's line. The new college band, which has made the rallies this year peppier than ever before, will again be present. The rally starts at 7:30. Be there!

KLEVENOW'S TEAM READY FOR N. Y. U.

Face Stiff Assignment In Metropolis; Opponent Is Undefeated

The strong attack which was shown against St. Michael's, together with the fact that nearly all of the injured regulars are on the rapid road to recovery, makes Middlebury's prospects in the N. Y. U. game which is to be played at New York on Saturday much brighter than they were a week ago.

Although hampered by wet weather and by the fact that several of the men have had to spend a few days in the hospital, Coach Klevenow has been aiming his work for the past ten days with the N. Y. U. game as the objective. The game against the Winooski collegians Saturday showed that much progress had been accomplished last week. If the same sort of progress continues during the present week it is certain that the eleven will be in condition to give N. Y. U. its stiffest game thus far this season.

The lineup which will start on Saturday is still a matter of conjecture. Coach Klevenow would make no statement yesterday as to its probable makeup and it is thought that he will not definitely decide upon it until Friday or Saturday.

Despite the fact that nothing definite is known about the lineup it seems quite probable that it will be different from that which entered the Harvard and Yale contests. The game against St. Michael's, in which an eleven composed almost entirely of substitutes started and nearly everyone on the squad participated, gave Klevenow an excellent chance to look over his reserve material. It is generally felt that the excellent showing made by

CROSS-COUNTRY TEAM TO MEET WILLIAMS

Purple Harriers Were New England Champions Last Year; Lost to M. A. C. Saturday

Middlebury's cross-country squad has been having hard work the past week, running up and down the hills on campus, in preparation for the coming meet with Williams on Saturday.

The Williams harriers held last year's New England inter-collegiate Athletic Association championship, but were beaten by M. A. C. 21 to 36 in a dual meet held last week. Middlebury ran against Williams the last time in 1922, losing the meet by a close score. The fact that Coach Brown received his training under the present trainer at Williams, Coach Seeley will make this year's meet of added interest.

It is probable that the same ten men who ran at Harvard will make the Williams trip, with the possible exception of Whiting, who has an injured knee, although it is hoped that he will be in condition Saturday.

SENTIMENT FAVORS CHAPEL AT SEVEN

The students of Middlebury would prefer to have the Sunday chapel hour changed to seven o'clock if the votes cast by one-sixth of their number in the balloting conducted by the CAMPUS are any indication of the sentiment of the entire student body. The vote was by an overwhelming margin, eighty-two being in favor of seven o'clock while only twenty voted for the continuation of the present hour of five o'clock.

The result of the balloting however, probably cannot be taken as an accurate cross-section of student opinion. The fact that number of people voting was not large is an indication that there is not a great deal of interest in the question. Those favoring the present hour probably did not take as active an interest in the voting as those who are anxious for the change and therefore it may be said that the sentiment in the entire student body is not as strongly in favor of the change as the balloting might indicate.

It is understood, of course that this balloting, of itself, will in no way affect the chapel hour. Any change would have to be instituted by the officials of the college.

The vote is as follows:

	7 o'clock	5 o'clock
Seniors	21	8
Juniors	8	2
Sophomores	23	4
Freshmen	30	6
Totals	82	20

RUSHING RULES

1. Not more than fifteen men shall be pledged by any fraternity during the college year.
2. Any Sophomore, Junior or Senior not a transfer shall be eligible to be pledged any time during the year.
3. No Freshman or transfer shall be allowed in a fraternity house or rooms before the regular rushing season.
4. There shall be no rushing prior to the date and time as fixed by the Interfraternity Council.
5. Any fraternity convicted of violating the rushing rules three times in one season shall be prohibited from pledging any men for that year.
6. Women shall not be present at any rushing party.
7. No fraternity shall initiate a man till after pledge day.
8. Alumni are governed by these rules.
9. Rushing is defined as the attempt by any man to inform a man of or place him in contact with any fraternity. This to include treats, movies and any other acts which might in any way obligate a person.
10. Dating shall be as follows: The first two days dates to be made "catch as catch can"; the following two days to be assigned; the fifth day selection and the sixth day to be pledge day.
11. No dating on the first day before 12:30 noon.
12. There shall be no rushing between the hours of 10:30 in the evening and 7 in the morning.
13. Rushing season shall commence at 12:30 noon on October 26, and end on October 30, at 10:30 p. m., October 31, to be pledge day.

Fisher '27 Is Chosen Ass't Manager of Track

Harold M. Fisher '27 of Mt. Kisco, N. Y., was elected assistant manager of track at the Undergraduate Association meeting held in the gymnasium last night. Fisher is a member of the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity. In the election for assistant baseball manager, Frederick Ives '27 lacked one vote of having a majority when he polled 60 votes while his opponets together totaled exactly the same number. He was by mistake declared elected but another vote will be taken on the two highest candidates at the next meeting. Further voting will also be necessary for Student Council and Athletic Council members since no one of the candiates received majorities.

FRATERNITY RUSHING STARTS NEXT WEEK

To Be Five Days of Active Rushing Followed By Pledge Day, Oct. 31

Rushing week for the six Greek letter secrect societies which are recognized by the Interfraternity Council commences at 12:30 Monday, when the Freshmen will be given an opportunity to look over the fraternities. During the first two days all dates will be catch as catch can. Dates will be assigned for the third and fourth days and selections will be made for the last day. All rushing shall terminate at 10:30 Friday evening and Saturday will be pledge day.

For the benefit of the Freshmen and transfers the rules for this week are published in this issue of the CAMPUS as well as in the College Handbook. Every new man should thoroughly acquaint himself with their contents at once and bear in mind that any violation of them may result in unpleasant consequences.

HICKCOX '26 AGAIN TENNIS CHAMPION

Defeats Wolfskehl '27 in Final Round Of College Tournament After Hard Fight

"Eddie" Hickcox '26 again won the college tennis championship when he defeated Wolfskehl '27 in the final round of the inter-class tournament last Wednesday by the score of 6-3, 1-6, 6-4, 10-8. Hickcox' victory marks the second time that he has held the college title. The match was a close one, with Wolfskehl threatening throughout but the consistent work which has featured Hickcox' playing ever since he has been in college finally gave the victory to the senior.

Hickcox easily took the first set, 6-3, but Wolfskehl staged a rousing comeback in the second set, winning it with an overwhelming 6-1. Hickcox came back in the third set however and carried it off after a hard fought battle, 6-4. The real battle, however, was staged in the fourth set. The score went up and up, first one winning and then the other, until at the end of the sixteenth game the score stood at eight all. Here Hickcox staged a winning rally and finally carried off the set and championship with a 10-8. Both of the contestants for the championship were in splendid form, and there were many brilliant plays made during the match.

At the annual meeting of the Vermont Modern Language Association held in Rutland October 15-16, Professor J. Moreno-Lacalle, Dean of the Spanish School, was reelected President.

PENT-UP FURY OF PANTHER LOOSENED ON ST. MICHAEL'S

MANY CHANGES IN VARSITY LINEUP

Winooski Eleven No Match For Blue In Season's First Home Game

Crashing through the opponents' line, skirting around the ends, and sending long passes through the air in a way that reminded the spectators of the championship eleven of last year, Middlebury's fighting Black Panther team rolled up a score of 61 to 0 on St. Michael's here Saturday in the first home game of the season. Adding momentum to its attack continuously as the game progressed, the rejuvenated Blue team crashed through the upstaters for nine touchdowns which, together with the extra points which were tallied seven times, made the score the highest of any team in the East for the day.

It was a reorganized pack of Black Panthers that took the field at the beginning of the game and they sprang a big surprise. Of the men that started in the first two games of the season only Captain Potter, Ehlert, Wiley and McLaughlin began the game and the latter left the field three minutes after the game opened. It was practically a team of sophomores. Against them the Purple had no chance at all, making only one earned first down. The ball was seldom in the Middlebury half of the field and then it was never in possession of the visitors.

While the entire Blue team looked good, Coach Klevenow unearthed several new players that will make the regulars fight hard to keep their positions. Hinman, starting in a varsity contest for the first time, was the outstanding star of the game. Four of the nine touchdowns go to his credit and several others were results of his passes and runs. St. Michael's seemed unable to stop him and time after time he crashed through for long runs. In the line Furbush at center played a beautiful game blocking several passes and kicks and having an all around good day. Gollnick at quarter also looked good, picking his plays well and making a beautiful run back of one of the visitors kicks. Captain Potter played his usual consistent game.

Middlebury scored only once in the first quarter. Ehlert kicked off to open the game and the run back gave the Winooski team the ball on the twenty-five yard line. The visitors could not gain in three plays and they punted to their own 42 yard line. Here the Panthers started towards their first score of the season. Short gains by Hinman and McNeil quickly brought the ball to the upstaters seven yard line where Hinman went over for a touchdown. Potter added the extra point when his kick hit the upright and bounced thru. Middlebury again kicked off and after several plays Reilly recovered a fumble on the visitors' 25 yard line. Here the upstate team showed their only real defense of the day, holding the Blue for downs and regaining possession of the ball. St. Mike's immediately booted out of danger but runs by the backfield put the ball back again. After losing fifteen yards on a penalty a pass Hinman to Potter was grounded over the goal line. It was St. Michael's ball

FRATERNITIES

Within the next ten days the majority of the members of the freshman class will be called upon to make one of the most important decisions of their college careers. The fraternity rushing season, which opens on Monday and continues intensively for the remainder of the week, concerns most vitally every member of the class of 1929. The fact that every man should use the greatest care and judgment in deciding which group, if any, he wishes to affiliate himself with, cannot be emphasized too strongly. A wise decision will make the next four years happy and successful ones but a bad choice may spoil completely the opportunity to get all that there is to be gained from college.

The period of rushing is one of the most severe trials of a man's good judgment and common sense. Although he will be given advice from every side it is inevitable that the greater part of it will be prejudiced and as a result each man who is rushed must think independently and make his own decision when pledge day comes.

There are a good many matters to be taken into consideration in deciding which house you wish to make your home and after they have all been weighed carefully it is best to let good, sound, common sense guide you in the final decision. Pick, if you can, the group into which you seem to fit best—that which has interests in common with yours. Put the congeniality and friendliness of the men above their more superficial qualities, which though they may be more noticeable are of far less consequence in the end. But be not deceived by the assumed cordiality of rushing week. Every fraternity man on the campus will be as friendly as a long-lost brother during the days between now and pledge day. Try to pierce the superficial and find the friendliness which is genuine. In many cases it will be the men who do the least talking and fussing and who make the least ostentatious display of friendliness who can give you that which is really worth-while. Do not base your decision of the fraternity on the merits of one man alone. There is not a fraternity on the hill that does not have some fine fellows, men whose friendship would be really valuable. But, on the other hand, each organization has members that you will not especially like. Therefore neither approve nor condemn the fraternity because of wha tyou find to be true of one or two men. Base your judgment of the group on the average drawn from the qualities of all its members.

Conditions which are bound to exist during rushing week may make it difficult for you to judge accurately the character of the upperclassmen. If that is the case, look about you at the other freshmen that are being rushed by the same fraternities that are rushing you. On account of your previous contact with them you can judge more accurately their character than you can that of the fraternity men. The class of men that a fraternity rushes is a fair, though not positive, indication of its quality. Furthermore the other freshmen that it takes are those with whom you will be most intimately associated for the longest time. Therefore consider the qualities of your prospective brother pledges as carefully as the standing of the men already in the fraternity.

Last but not least—no freshman should enter the rushing season with the idea that the highest ambition of a college man is to make a fraternity. Fraternities are all right in their place but thoughtful college men and women both in and out of fraternities are coming to believe more and more that the secret societies are at times of a decided detriment both to students and to colleges. In spite of their benefits, certain undesirable features are bound to result where fraternities exist.

If you must make a decision between remaining a neutral and joining a group of men who do not especially appeal to you, there can be no wiser decision than to reject the bid and remain a non-fraternity man. It is not wise to join a fraternity simply for the sake of being a fraternity man if the organization is not one that you honestly believe can be of benefit to you. In the short four weeks that college has been in session it has not been possible for every fraternity to recognize the merits of every man. Perhaps if you wait you will later find the group that is best for you. Many men are pledged after the regular rushing season has closed. At any rate, you can make no mistake to wait.

We wish to emphatically say that one can get fully as much out of college as a non-fraternity man as one can get when affiliated with one of the societies. True friendships, which are after all one of the greatest things in college, are not dependent upon fraternity brotherhood. If a man is really your friend he will stand by you regardless of whether you both wear the same badge or not. Fraternal bonds cannot strengthen the bonds of real friendship. Neither can fraternal bonds make a real friendship where none could exist otherwise.

Columns of advice might be written in regard to the fraternity problem yet all of it together can not be of as much practical value as a little good common sense and judgment on the part of each individual man.

ARE WE VANDALS?

It often happens that we possess many things which are attractive and useful to our friends. The extent of borrowing and lending in college astonishes our parents who are not pleased with this state of affairs, especially if the value and usefulness of our possessions have been decreased by lending. Although we are liberal in allowing others to borrow our clothes, books and sundry other articles, we are anxious to have them returned uninjured.

But are we always as careful with the property of others as we wish them to be of ours? Perhaps we take better care of our friends' things than we do of the college property, a condition undoubtedly due to the fact that we are not in personal contact with authorities who force us to do otherwise We are paying our money that the college may have the privilege (so we say to ourselves) of having our names on the roll Under these circumstances, why should we not do as we wish and play with whatever appeals to us? The reasons are not hard to find. To begin with we are not the only people here now or who will be here in future days. The behavior of man is good only so long as it in no way injures or renders disagreeable the lives of others. If we tamper with fire extinguishers we are imperiling the lives of many; if we steal or break light bulbs some inconvenience is bound to follow, and so it goes down through the list of thoughtless little things we all do which result in the loss or depreciation of property, as well as danger to life.

There are some things we should never do under any conditions, and chief among these comes the abuse of life saving apparatus. The ideal condition would be to have everyone as careful of the college property as is humanly possible, but if we cannot refrain from marking the desks and the like, let us at least guard those things which have been placed here to safeguard our very lives.

SIDELINE SNATCHES

The band surely lent a world of spirit to the game. It was its first appearance in uniform and when it lined up before the stands between the halves, a genuine roar of approval greeted it.

Towards the end of the game, after practically every one else had been in, the coach sent some of his crippled regulars into action. Brosowsky, Mullen and Novotny hobbled in for the last two plays with broad grins on their faces. Possibly it was the thought of something a little easier than they have been facing. However they didn't even get their hands dirty.

Some of the statistics go to show how the game went. Middlebury gained 400 yards on rushing the ball. While St. Michael's gained but 17. Added to this Middlebury completed six passes for a total of 129 yards. Another 145 yards was added to this through runback of kicks. A pretty total of 665 yards. The upstaters failed to complete one pass in five attempts and ran their kicks back 72 yards for a total of 89 yards.

Both teams missed five passes and Middlebury intercepted three of the visitors passes. The upstaters snared two Blue throws, both in their own territory.

It was hard to understand the cheer that met the announcement of Penn's lead over Yale and of Holy Cross' one point advantage over the Crimson.

DEBATE SCHEDULED AGAINST SYRACUSE

World Court Question to Be Discussed Here Late in November

According to plans now under way, Middlebury will meet the Syracuse University Debating team here either on the 20th or 24th of November. Syracuse, who has a strong team this season, is making a New England tour meeting Dartmouth, Amherst, Williams and Boston University as well as Middlebury.

Middlebury will probably defend the negative of the question, "Resolved, That the United States should enter the World Court under the Harding-Hughes Reservations". It has been the custom in the past few years to hold intercollegiate debates only in the second semester, but in scheduling this early season encounter, Manager Hawthorne feels that the team will get the advantage of earlier practice and thus be in better shape when the winter season is reached.

The debating team which made such a good record last year has been nearly wiped out by graduation. Kenneth Anderson, Malcolm Anderson, Cooley, Leary, Chapin and Leiby were all members of the class of 1925. Of the men who have been in intercollegiate contests before, only Hade, Hawthorne, Jackson and Reighard remain. However, several new men are out to make positions on the team and should materially strengthen the squad.

Padula and Weston Are Class Golf Champions

Padula '27, and Weston '29, won their respective class championships in the college golf tournament last week. Padula beat McCutcheon two up and Weston won his match on a default by Brown.

In the senior matches Novotny beat Purdy four up three to play, and Twichell won from Farnsworth one up. Collins defaulted to Krammer, the only sophomore to advance in the tournament last week.

Novotny will play Twichell for the senior championship this week, and Krammer will play the winner of the Palmer-Holmes match for the sophomore championship.

Women's Athletics Are Held Up By Weather

Because of the repeated bad weather the tennis courts and hockey field have been in too poor a condition for either practice or match use most of the time.

However, one tennis match was completed which brings the junior tournament to the finals. Rhoda Southall and Rachel Spear are to play off for the class title.

Only one day was good enough for hockey practice and, owing to the continued bad weather, it is very uncertain when the interclass matches will be played.

Brosowsky Is Elected German Club President

Alfred Brosowsky '26 was elected president of the organization. Other officers elected were: Vice President, Kittel '28; treasurer, H. Matthews '27; secretary, G. Elfstrom '27, and chairman of the executive committee, Downey '28.

Future meetings are to be held in Hamlin Hall.

Gruggel's Serenaders rendered the music to which sixty couples made merry at an informal dance last Saturday evening in the gymnasium. Professor and Mrs. William S. Burrage, and Professor and Mrs. Charles F. Abbott, chaperoned.

"Fight For Character" Is Topic at Vespers

Rev. R. Hailey Trill of St. Stephen's Church, Middlebury Is Speaker At Sunday Service

Rev. R. Hailey Trill, the rector of St. Stephen's Episcopal church of Middlebury, was the vesper speaker in chapel Sunday.

Rev. Trill's topic was the fight for character. "There is in life" he declared, "the alternative of light and death. The natural law in the spiritual world as in the natural is that 'as ye sow, so shall ye reap.' God is the power within and beyond ourselves and nature that makes for righteousness. He is the supreme, the ultimate good."

"Law and order were not known to primitive man. Now we realize that nature and man are controlled by the laws of orderliness. Man cannot change these laws but he can bring one to bear upon the other and thus modify them. They all work harmoniously together and we are not conscious of them except in time of terrible upheaval such as cyclones. Perfect adaptation to the law of Christ makes for true manliness."

"There are three courses of development which an individual or race may follow. First, devolution or the degradation of the person through vice and sin. These work together for the law of death which is, in effect, the eliminating of the of the unfit to make room for the fit and for the future. Neglect hastens devolution or, in scientific terms, the reversion to primitive type. For every change of thought, there is a corresponding change in the body. 'As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he.' Moreover, thoughts and habits are passed on to the next generation. Thus we see that 'no man liveth unto himself alone.'

"Secondly, there is the state of balance when an organism just holds its own with no appreciable devolution or evolution. This is the conventional morality which is typical of so many men.

"Thirdly, we have the process of evolution which gives itself to the whole upward trend of the universe.

"Life is a battle for light. It requires submission and obedience to Christ. God must come first with mankind and man must treat his fellow men as he wishes to be treated if he is attempting to obey the law of orderliness in spritual life."

New Members Chosen For Women's Glee Club

Try-outs for the Women's Glee Club during the past week have resulted in the choosing of five new members to take the place of those who graduated last June. The new members who have been chosen are Eleanor Frost '26, Ruth Tupper '27, Jessie Covert '27, C. Woodward '29, and A. Brownlee '29. Miss Prudence Fish is to again be in charge of the organization.

FROSH TO BATTLE VERMONT SATURDAY

Both Yearling Elevens Are Strong; Close Fight Expected

On Porter field Saturday afternoon the Frosh eleven will enter the objective game of the season, that against the University of Vermont Freshmen.

Coming out of the Vermont Academy game of last Saturday with renewed confidence and in the best of physical shape the Yearlings are fit to put up the best game of the season.

Considering the showing that Vermont teams have made in the past and the fact that they have an especially strong team this season an interesting match may be expected. The inauguration of the one-year rule at Vermont has made more material than ever before available to the yearling team. The Panther Cubs, however, have been training hard for the game and are entirely optimistic as to the outcome.

Distinctive Apparel

Conservative, yet more appropriate for the needs of the college man. Offered in both custom and ready made models without excessive cost.

Tuxedos at $45

The newer easy fitting English model. Made in answer to the demand for a Tuxedo of moderate cost, yet with the style so necessary for evening wear. The custom made Tuxedo is only five dollars more.

Middlebury Team Is Ready for New York Game

Hinman at halfback will earn for him a regular place on the varsity. It is regarded as possible that Hinman will take the place of Whittemore who will be shifted to quarter, the position in which he played part of the time last week. This would add needed weight to the backfield.

Furbush played a great game at center, several times breaking through to frustrate St. Michael's attempts to kick and pass. If Coach Klevenow deems it unwise to risk further injury to Novotny he may shift McLaughlin back to his old position of end and put Furbush at center.

N. Y. U. Has Power

(Special to THE CAMPUS)

New York, Oct. 20.—With four victories to her credit New York University will tackle Middlebury on Ohio Field this Saturday in what promises to be the hardest game that the Violet has played this season. The New York team has shown considerable power from the start of the season and has rolled up 90 points against her opponents while only three points have been scored against her in four games.

Football at the Heights is under a new regime this year and "Chick" Meehan, former Syracuse mentor has built up a strong eleven that has been developing consistently this fall in every phase of the game and the Violet eleven is sure to give the Black Panther a hard fight. However, none of the teams played so far have been especially strong ones, so that no fair estimate can be made of the real power of the Meehan machine.

In her game with C. C. N. Y. on last Saturday, N. Y. U. showed a strong forward line that repeatedl yopened up huge holes for her backs to smash through and in the backfield are several powerful hard running backs. Briante is by far the best of the backfield and has displayed unusual strength so far this season but Capt. O'Neill and Connors, halfs have given him able assistance in getting the ball down the field. In addition to her running attack the New York team has a well developed aerial attack that has proven fairly successful in her games already played.

If comparative scores mean anything, and some believe they do the two teams that clash on Ohio Field on Saturday afternoon should be very eveninly matched in every respect.

DRAMA REVIEW

Petticoat Perfidy

Cast

Mrs. Montrevor.....Anna Belisle '28
Juliette.....Eleanor Holden '28
Mrs. Norwood Jones..Dorothy Cate '28

"Political Perfidy" the first play of the 1925-26 Dramatic Club season, was given last Thursday night in the Playhouse under the direction of Virginia Aines '26. Mrs. Montrevor, having been insulted by Mrs. Norwood Jones, avengingly has Juliette, her maid, personify the much sought after Princess Borodinski, and Mrs. Norwood Jones, not suspecting the personification, attempts to use the false Princess to increase her own social prestige. Therein lies the plot of the play. Miss Holden as Juliette, took her double role very well. She was especially pleasing in the role of princess in which her little side actions were truly delightful. Miss Belisle's acting held potentialities which were sadly marred by all too frequent promptings. Miss Cate, a favorite in last year's productions, did not quite reach her former standard, although one's outstanding criticism of her is one which may be applied equally as emphatically to the other two players, namely, that it was very difficult to hear what they had to say. With the increasing number of club members the Playhouse is apt to be fairly well filled each night and audibility is extremely important.

Lonesome-Like

Cast

Mrs. Ormerod.....Edith Markwell '28
Emma.....Helen Bradley '28
Sam Horrocks.....Robert Fuller '28
Rector.....Storrs Lee '28

"Lonesome-Like," the second play presented Thursday night, was given under the direction of Rachel Barnes '26. As a play "Lonesome-Like" is pleasing and worth-while and the character portrayal of Sam Horrocks is interesting and well worked out. That Miss Barnes' production gave evidence of the play's real worth is quite hearty commendation. Miss Markwell's part was none too easy and she carried it off very, very well. Perhaps it is worthy of note that she so put herself into Mrs. Ormerod's place that one rather forgot that it was "Pete" and almost everyone will realize how rarely such a concealing of personal identity takes place. Miss Bradley pleased the audience considerably and gained much applause, possibly as much because she was so typically herself as for her truly commendable acting. Storrs Lee well fulfilled the requirements of his short time on the stage and Robert Fuller, who had an outstanding characterization to make evident, did so well enough to make the majority of his audience realize the value of Sam of the "mediocre mind"—and we think that was very well indeed. Women's Rushing Closes Today; Pledging Friday

Interest on the women's side of the hill this week is centered almost entirely on rushing. The period of modified rushing closed Wednesday, October 7 and until October 16 closed rushing has prevailed except for the society giving its party.

These parties were held in rotation by each fraternity on the evening assigned by the Pan-Hellenic Council. The last one scheduled was Friday evening, after which there was a closed period until Monday. On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week this closed period was broken by limited periods of open rushing assigned in rotation to the various groups.

According to present plans, each fraternity must hand its invitation list to Professor Abbott before 10 a. m. on Thursday and that afternoon the freshmen will be requested to designate their choices at his office. The bids go out on Friday and that evening has been set for Pledge Night.

Hop Not To Be Masquerade

The plans for turning the Sophomore Hop into a masquerade were definitely rejected as impracticable yesterday at a special sophomore class meeting in Old Chapel. The Hop committee under the chairmanship of Rollin Furbush, consists of Helen Bradley, Katherine Brainerd, Mary Fletcher, Joyce Joslyn, Ethel Palmer, George Hinman, Albert Leahy, Roland McChesney and Gordon Wiley. It is at present busily engaged on plans which promise to make this event as great a success as was the Freshman Frolic last January.

RHODES SCHOLARSHIP IS TO BE AWARDED

Candidates Must File Applications Before Saturday

Vermont is one of the states from which a Rhodes Scholarship will be awarded this year. This Scholarship is awarded every second and third year and will not be awarded in Vermont next year.

The Scholarship provides for a three year course at Oxford University with the sum of four hundred pounds annually, which is an increase of fifty pounds over last year. This sum should be sufficient with economy to cover a Rhodes Scholar's full expenses for term time and vacation. The scholarship is tenable for three years.

A candidate to be eligible must be a male citizen of the United States, with at least five years domicile, and unmarried; he must have completed at least his sophomore year in some American college or University of recognized degree-granting stand.

Representatives will be chosen on the basis of literary and scholasitc ability and attainments; qualities of manhood, force of character and leadership; physical vigor as shown by interest in outdoor sports or otherwise.

Rhodes Scholars are appointed without examination on the basis of their record in school and college and no restrictions are placed upon the courses to be followed. Application blanks may be obtained from Professor Cady or J. C. Sherbune, Esq., Randolph, Vt. These should be filed by October 24th.

Why You Need This Guide

"It is safe to say that failure to guide and direct study is the weak point in the whole educational machine." Prof. G. M. Whipple, U. of Michigan.

"The successful men in college do not seem to be very happy. Most of them,, especially the athletes are overworked." Prof. H. S. Canby, Yale.

"Misdirected labor, though honest and well intentioned may lead to naught. Among the most important things for the student to learn is how to study. Without knowledge of this his labor may be largely in vain." Prof. G. F. Swain, M. I. T.

"To students who have never learned, "How to Study," work is very often a chastisement, a flagellation, and an insuperable obstacle to contentment." Prof. A. Inglis, Harvard.

"HOW TO STUDY" will show you how to avoid all misdirected effort. Get a good start and make this year a highly successful one by sending for this hand-book and guide NOW.

on the 20 yard line as the quarter ended with the score Middlebury 7, St. Michael's 0.

St. Mike's finding themselves with the wind at their backs immediately punted to Middlebury's 40 yard line and a long yard penalty put the ball deep in Blue territory. Hinman punted to midfield and after several plays Furbush intercepted a pass. A pass Hinman to McNeil and two fifteen yard runs by Keene put the ball in scoring distance and Hinman skirted the end for another touchdown. Later in the half Hinman intercepted a pass and sprinted eighteen yards to the 20 yard marker. Short gains brought the ball to the three yard line and McNeil made the score 19-0 shortly before the whistle blew ending the half.

It took the Blue only a minute to start the scoring in the second half. Middlebury received and a pass Hinman to Potter netted twenty-five yards. A fifteen yard penalty put the ball back but several runs took the ball to the twenty-five yard line. Hinman uncorked another beautiful run and went over for a touchdown. Middlebury kicked off and St. Michael's took the ball on their 28 yard line. After several plays Potter blocked a kick and it was Middlebury's ball. A fifteen yard penalty forced a kick but when St. Michael's returned the punt from their seven yard line, Hinman caught the ball and ran twenty yards for his fourth touchdown.

Middlebury made one more score in this period when after securing possession of the ball in midfield a pass Hinman to Potter netted twenty-five yards. Hinman added eight and McNeil made the touchdown on an end run. On the try for point Potter picked up Gollnick's fumble and circled the end for the tally as the period ended. The score was 40 to 0.

The Blue continued its rush when Gollnick ran a punt back to midfield, a pretty run through the entire team. Hinman added another twenty before he was downed and a long pass to Potter took the ball across again.

Coach Klevenow seemed to be satisfied with the score and began to throw in some reserve material but they were able to gain at will. After the touchdown the opponents elected to kick. It was a fatal move, for Potter took the kick and ran fifty yards before he was downed. It was a wonderful run through the center of the field and seemed destined to end in a touchdown but after several tacklers had been eluded a lone man brought him down twenty yards from the goal. After several gains, Blanchett went over for a score.

The final score of the game came as the result of a long forward from Whittemore to Blanchett, who made an almost impossible catch of the ball on his own two yard line. It was too bad that he could not have crossed the line for it was a wonderful play. It remained for Simmons to take the ball across. Frank kicked the goal and the score was 61-0. A minute later the game was ended.

Eminent Sports Authority Predicts Thrilling Grid Battles

Although last Saturday produced a host of upsets, our esteemed prognosticator, Pete Prophet, '26, came out on the right end in a majority of contests. With his usual retiring modesty, he refuses to share in any of the glory captured by the Pirates in snatching the Pennant. Mr. Prophet wishes it clearly understood, that he is not a baseball fan. His life has been spent in following the pigskin. In fact it is very doubtful if any living sport writer has a more intimate knowledge of the great game. Some freshman was heard to say that Pete's predictions were made by tossing the coin.

Some fine contests are slated for Saturday. In order to set your mind at ease Pete remarked in passing:

Dartmouth 16; Harvard 7.
Amherst 21; Wesleyan 0.
Maine 6; Bates 0.
Bowdoin 13; Colby 7.
Yale 14; Brown 0.
Princeton 20; Colgate 7.
Columbia 40; Williams 0.
Tufts 0; Conn. Aggies 0.
Fordham 35; Akron 0.
Holy Cross 26; Vermont 0.
Chicago 10; Penn. 7.
R. P. I. 16; Union 13.
St. Stephens 6; St. Johns 0.

In the first of the fourth quarter V. A. intercepted a pass, and followed this up with their only completed pass. Vermont then ran up against an iron wall and were forced to punt to Hellauer. After several sallies around the ends and through center Middlebury was forced to punt. Henry retaliated for Vermont's gain by intercepting a pass and running 55 yards before he was brought to earth. On the next play Willis carried the ball around right end for a touchdown and made a successful dropkick for the extra point.

Webber kicked off and Vermont was held for downs. Ransom took the ball through the line and Sherman, who went in Willis' place, made a successful end run as the game ended.
